THE CASE OF JOHN C. UNDERWOOD.—This gentleman, whom our readers will recollect, has late ly returned to New York, having been allowed by the chivalrous Virginians a few days to settle up his affairs and retire from the State. In a letter to the N. Y. Evening Post he discloses a melancholy condition of society in Virginia, and gives the conclusion of one of the most shameful cases of political proscription that we have everheard of under any government. For simply avowing, in the Philadelphia Convention; sentiments professed by Washington and Jefferson, he has been driven from his home, compelled to sell his property at a great sacrifice; and, at an age when he was entitled to the repose which the fruits of a long life of industry ought to have secured him, he finds himself suddenly banished from home and friends, and forced to begin life. almost penniless in a comparatively strange land. His fate is a hard one, and should bring a blush upon the cheek of every American who has in any way contributed, directly, or indirectly, towards the inhuman outrage.

The Free Democrat, like the Sentinel, evident-Jy prefers not to discuss the questions an oppor-tis; neither does it give its readers an oppor-tanity to see the arguments of both sides. They profess to be in favor of a new discussion of the merits of the candidates mamed for the office (which we cordially endorse), but refuse to pub-lish the arguments which may be advanced ish the arguments which may be advanced against their side. We again repeat our offer that it they will publish our article of Jam/l; we will publish any reply of equal length which they may prepare. Bacine Advocate:

Persia has been for many years, the fest friend of Russia, and during the late war assisted her this the Literature Fund income of $34,986, and of Russia, and during the late war assisted her ur-ine protector in many ways. Although Eng-land privately and France openly made to her overtures of friendship and favor, and though treaty of amity and commerce was concluded be-tween her and France, still, the diplomatists of tween her and France, still, the diplomatists of the Eastern powers found no entrance way to the real sympathies of the Shah. He still continued to sack the advice and be guided by the programmes prepared by the Russian government. So that he may look for assistance in the time of need from that quarter.

But Persia opposes to the allegations of England certain facts, which it claims tend to blust the force of the latter's charges of unfaithfulness and dishonor, and to reflect the imputations upon their makers. In order to secure the safety and peace of their Anglo Indian Empire, the English government have concluded trenties with the princes governing the Asiatic States lying between the sea and the Himslayn. One of these princes is Dost Mahommed, the Governor of Cubool, and a former enemy of England, to whom the greater power assumes the present the state of the respective of the state of the respective of the state to whom the greater power assures the possesto whom the greater power assures the possessions in tranquility and peace of "all his possessions." Instantly upon the receipt of this important guarantee, Dost Mahoremed organized and headed an expedition against Kandahar, with the intention of analysis, that the transition of analysis, the transition of analysis, that the transition of analysis, that the transition of analysis and the tr neaced an expection against Kanuanar, W. In the intention of annexing that rich territory to Cahool. The Shah demanded of England that though Dost was guaranteed the peaceful occupation of all his possessions by England, she could not prevent his undertaking any wars on his own account, if not directed against her all lies, and this he had not attempted, as he had not disturbed the peace of the Persian provinces. So England declares war against Persia for her invasion of Herat. And because Russia has always done so, it is expected that she will now afford countenance to Persia. Whether she will not is at present, the important question original and the she will not is at present, the important question will not, is, at present, the important question in the future. Of course, without the aid of Russia, Persia must soon succumb to the might of England.

The most recent and probably reliable information on this point is to be found in the following extract from a letter dated St. Petersburg, 8th inst.

The events which are being prepared in that quarter are of a nature to provoke the anxiety of Russia, the more so as herown interests are deeply at stake there. It is very well known here that it was the occurrences at Kars which especially induced the Court of Teherun to make advances to the Chiract of St. Patersburg. The appointment duced the Court of Tenerin to make advances to the Cabinet of St. Petersburg. The appointment of General Dunham, at that time in the service of Russia, to be the head of the staff in the Persian army, instead of the Austrian Colonel Karas zay, was a manifest proof of the influence acquired by our Court, and if the Shah has been in haste to commence the war, he has probably taken this in incitve, because he has been made to comprehend that, within a few years, when the projected railways shall have been constructed, projected ranways main have onen constructed, the English might easily occupy every one of the Persian ports. The great iron war steamer, which is now construction at Hoboken for the government, he ing an object of much interest, we have been at When, in 1852; the Governor of Herat, an Afghan Prince, Mahomed Said Kahn, threatened with incasive war by the Prince of Kandahar, considerable pains to collect reliable information in regard to her, principally through the medium of our Washington correspondents; and, as it differs very materially from the statements recently and made in various quarters, we give it to our read-

In 1842, the late Mr. Robert L. Stevens first broached to the government the subject of bar-bor delence by means of steam batteries of iron, bor delence by means of steam batteries of iron, which should be shot and shell proof, and in 1843 Congress, by a special act, directed that the Navy Department should contract with him for such a vessel. In 1844, a contract was accordingly made with him by Mr. Mason, then Secretary of the Navy, and which Mr. Stevens commenced collecting materials and costructing the dry dock in which the vessel is now building.

Mr. Stevens bound himself by this contract to construct a war steamer scitable for use in the waters of the New York, from Sandy Heok upward. It was stipulated that she should be built of iron, that she should be shot and shell proof against ordinance them in use on ships-of-war, that she should have four engines, and be propelled by a subjected propeller, which should give

The Capture of Herat by the Persians. A letter from Teheran, dated November 8, gives the following account of the surrender of Herat:

"At the beginning of October the trenches were so far advanced that Colonel Buhler, the French officers who superintended the engineering operations of the beseigers, pledged himself in a despatch to the Shah that the place would be taken within a given time, and so convinced was the ruler of Persia that the officer would make good his promise, that he raised him to the rank of general. The exterior works were destroyed by mising, and several breaches were effected in the wall. Everything was ready for the assault, and the Persians had made all their preparations for the final attack, when the beseiged, reduced to the greatest extremities by fandre, and wishing to receive the together the restriction to the greatest extremities by fandre, and wishing to receive the together was expected to the g to prevent the terrible consequences of the by a long resistance, despatched Mir-Abol Azim to the Persians, to declare the town was willing to surrender.

This overture being well received, Yesa Khan who commanded the gurison, issued from the town, accompanied by all the chief personages, belonging to it, civil and military, and proceed ed to the Persian camp to make his submission to Marad-Mirza. The prince received him with great kindness, and with an assurance of good treatment. Immediately after the gates of the town were thrown open and the Persian troops which misgovernment has occasioned in Kansas, with the single remark that to do so, would only be an act of duty towards our own kith and kin who have migrated to that new region, of like character, but certainly of higher obligation than the appropriations which, in a spirit of benevothe the appropriations which, in a spirit of benevother the proportions are count of these measures that the Ports had formed near Erzeroum a corpse of observation, nearly 35,000 strong, under the command of Islamiel Packa, to protect the basin of the Euphret's and watch the Persian frontier.

HUNTINGTON IN SING SING STATE PRISON .--The New York Tribune gives the following interesting account of the employment and conduct of Huntington, the forger, at Sing Sing: CHARLES B. HUNTINGTON.

This person who has so lately occupied the public attention in a criminal way, reached the prison on Friday evening last. The Warden at first designed to place him in the hat-shop to work; but Huntington being a cabinet maker by trade was placed in the cabinet-shop. He preferred it to the hat-shop. On Monday he was busy nailing together bedstead slats, and packing finished bedsteads for removal. He maintains his fortifude and works cheerfully. The overseer of the shop in which he works, desiring to in ore of the shop in which he works, desiring to inure him gradually to hardship, which is the practice with new arrivals for the sake of health, told him that he might work with his cost on for a few days of this cold weather; but Huntington took off his coat and worked as actively and cheerfully as though he had all along been working at the bench instead of engaging in feats of financial ground and lofty tumbling in Wall strent.-It was Huntington's luck, at his first pri Saturday, to merch into the hall next to, and be seated at the side of a large sized specimen of the African race. This was new to him, and of course not very agreeable. This sudden transition from luxury to prison fare, from spacieus, richly furnished and beautiful apartments to a narrow, gloomy, meanly-furnished cell, cold and dark, is a change which must produce most painful sensations in his mind. He has expressed his desire to the keeper to be made acquainted with the rules of the prison, so that he may strictly observe them, and he will make the bess

MUSIC IN THE COURT ROOM .-- Up in Winner bago Co, at Oshkosh, the people have devised a method of securing music, gratis, for the edification of the Court and audience. The Demo crat says:

SHORTER AGENT THE Suggestive, of County buildings, to sit in a Court room over a ten pin alley in full blast. Enthusiastic lawyer rises to address the jury.—

THE HOME INSURANCE COMPANY, -A. COR. BECTION .- Mr. E. W. CARPENTER, Secretary of the Home Insurance Co., of this City, informs us that there was an error in the notice copied from the West Bend Democrat; of the insurance paid by his Company on Cock & Elliot'e-Mill. The sum-was $1500, instead of $500 as there stated. And while we are about it, we may as well say that the Company, in Mr. Cappenyra, has the zervices of a most inthint, persavering and active officer, who is as wide awake in the pursuit of his business avocations, as he was efficient as a worker on the side of Freedom in the late political campaign.

many year, he has borne an nu-axe spitonable character for integrity; I have been acquainted with him nearly the whole term of his residence here, and know that his talent, science and proficiency in Mixic are of a very high order. I have had the better opportunity of forming this opinion from his having sunght in ms family some rears, wherein he teatilide his supprison ability as a teacher, by the extraordinary advancement of his pupils, in the hit best grade of the art. T. G. BLAIR,

Washington 9th Senate-Mr. Seward based his argument in favor of Mr. Harlan's right to a seat on the ground that while legislative acts require the concurrent votes of the two branches of the Legislature, the act of choosing a U.S. Senator was not a legislative act but merely an additional du-ty which had been develved upon the members of the Legislature. When they performed this duty, it was in joint convention; the individuality of the two houses being merged and east in joint

BARTHED ADDRESS OF A STATE OF A S ody.

Mr. Stewart took the position that the election was unconstitutional, and the report of the du-diciary Committee to that effect well founded. Mesers. Brown & Hale favored the claim of the sitting member; Messis. Toucey and Bonglass opposed it, but no question was taken.
On motion of Mr. Bell, of N. H., a revolution was adopted requesting the President, if, in his opicion, it is not inconsistent with the public interests to communicate to the Sanata such in-ESTINGS.—The choicest selections of Velve and Sike Pinch Vestings in the city, at 20019 SWAFFIELD & RUSSELL'S. / STEUNIS, Ladies' and Genis' Sole Leather Russ is and common Packing Trucks, at sep19 SWAFFIELD & RUSSELL, nterests, to communicate to the Senate such information as may be on file in the department of state relative to interference at the island of Swarplendid variety, at swarplend Russellys. An adjointment was about being effected when Mr. Kelsey introduced a subject which caused much excitement. He presented it as a question of privilige, first causing to be read, at the clerk's table, as an aditorial from the N. Y. There of the 6th inst., which charges Members of Gorgress and lobby agents with gross corruption, mentioning the Minneseta bill in the connection, and against that evidence can be medically as were PHULL OF THE SECRETARIES OF SECURITY PROPERTY OF DRY GOODS, raying that evidence can be produced to carry conviction to every honest heart, and that the criminals should be driven from the high places In the Store lately known as the ther have di∗honored. Mr. Kelsey remarked that the charges con tained in this article appeared to have been Laged on a letter from this city to the Tenes. I follow ordinary circumstances, it would be a waste of time to notice articles of this character appearing in newspapers, but the editor of the Trace compiled a position before the country which entitled his sen inents to credit. It be is in possession of the facts he therein charges, he should substantiate that before a committee of

I shall mention no member by name. (A voice—"You ought to do it") It was with feelings of indignation I leand the proposition. (Cries of "what was it? tell it!" The reason why I did not announce it to the House was that pending the organization of this land was ganization of this body, when a member rose in his place and stated that a fellow-member had made an attempt to tamper with him for vete for Speaker; the only credit he got was that he was speaker; incomy creent he got was that he was laughed at. I say distinctly there is not a want of truth in the allegation contained in the Times' article. A distinct proposition was made to me by a member of this House, in regard to the Minnerota land bill, and that $1,500 would be given in considerati n of a vote for that bill.
